

MORE MIDSHIPMEN INVOLVED IN HAZING

Four are Confined to Ship and Are Likely to Face Court Martial.

NINE ALREADY ACCUSED

Few of First Class are Willing to Sign 'Clear Conscience' Paper.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ANNAPOIS, Oct. 21.—Four midshipmen, members of the first or graduating class, are confined to the ship Reina Mercedes and are likely to face a court martial on the charge of hazing. It is understood the facts upon which the midshipmen are under suspicion were brought out through the board of investigation now in session.

Nine midshipmen are accused in the present movement against hazing. Two, Stuart H. Hawkins of Massachusetts and Bruce H. Robinson of Arizona, have been tried by court martial, but the action of the court has not been announced. Among the midshipmen recently sent to the ship under charges are George H. Lord, Hawaii; Francis W. Laurent, Wisconsin; and Jack H. Korana, Ohio. Midshipman Elbert L. Frieberger of Colorado is also under charges, but he is in the naval hospital.

In addition to these midshipmen the names of several were brought into the matter through testimony given by a fourth class man, during the trial of Midshipman Robinson. Two of these, summoned later as witnesses, declined to testify on the ground that they might incriminate themselves. These developments indicate that hazing since the opening of the new term at the Naval Academy may have been more widespread than at first supposed. This is borne out by the fact that few of the first class have been willing to sign a paper stating that they have not been hazing, and that the paper was signed by only a few of the first class.

FRENCH GLIDER SETS TWO WORLD RECORDS

Maneyrele Remains in Air 3 Hours and 22 Minutes.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau. London, Oct. 21.—Two world's gliding records were made over South Downs, near Lewes, this afternoon, the French aviator, Maneyrele, remaining in the air three hours and twenty-two minutes, thus beating H. P. Hentzen's glide in Germany, August 25, by twelve minutes. Capt. G. R. Oley glided with a passenger in a Fokker glider forty-five minutes.

Maneyrele's achievement is the more praiseworthy, as part of it was performed in darkness. He launched forth into a northeasterly wind of twenty-five or thirty miles an hour in his tandem monoplane and soared immediately, and from that moment he gave a wonderful exhibition of flight. As he rose and fell over the tops of the Downs with marvelous ease the craft seemed almost to fly itself. Scarcely at all did the controls move, and again and again the odd little brown machine hovered nearly motionless, poised perfectly in the sky.

SOCOLOW, FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER, TO GET LIFE

Prisoner 'Stolen' From Court Here Convicted in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21.—Walter Socolow, tried at Towson, Baltimore county, for the murder of William B. Norris in a daylight holdup in Baltimore May 18, was found guilty of murder in the first degree today without capital punishment, the verdict carrying life imprisonment.

Socolow was one of five who stopped Norris, a building contractor, and his bookkeeper and robbed them of a $7,000 payroll. Two others are serving life sentences.

Socolow, 19, was arrested in New York several weeks ago. He was unceremoniously hustled out of Supreme Court Justice Martin's courtroom by Baltimore detectives during habeas corpus proceedings and brought to Baltimore. Their action led to further requests by the New York authorities for Socolow's return.

MISS RELIEF WORKER FROM VOLGA REGION

Philip Shields of Richmond First A. R. A. Disappearance.

Moscow, Oct. 21.—Philip Shields of Richmond, Va., aged 27, is missing from Simbirsk, in the Volga Valley, where he has been a worker for the American Relief Administration. He is the first American to disappear since the A. R. A. began its work in Russia. "According to James Sommersville of Valden, Miss., his roommate, Shields had not given any indications of being in other than a normal mental and physical state. About dark he left the house where the personnel is lodged, setting out alone. That was the last seen of him."

SHOPMEN'S LEADER TO ASK REHEARING

Jewell Calls on Chairman Hooper Regarding Case Against Central.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (Associated Press).—For the first time since he issued the call for the federated shopmen to walk out on July 1, B. M. Jewell, president of the organization, today called on the United States Railroad Labor Board, holding a conference with Chairman Ben W. Hooper.

President Jewell notified Chairman Hooper that the shop crafts within a few days would present a petition to the board for reopening of its case against the New York Central, involving establishment of the piece work system in shops at Elkhart, Ind. This question was before the board prior to the walk-out.

The meeting between President Jewell and Chairman Hooper was marked by cordiality. There was no evidence of any change in their friendly relations which existed prior to the strike and which brought the two together in July as vain attempt to settle the strike. Their efforts were checked by the minority question on which they could not agree.

When the Baltimore agreement was accepted by the union chiefs the New York Central was one of the first to sign roads. This agreement provided for a commission of six railroad representatives and six union chiefs as an arbitration committee to settle disputes growing out of the strike and those arising in the future. The commission has no power to sit in the piece work dispute between the union and the New York Central.

Will Be First at Sing Sing to Live After Passing Green Door.

Death house prisoners at Sing Sing for years have passed through "the little green door" without living to tell the tale. For this door connects the death house and the execution chamber and has been the death portal for all that passed through it.

But within the next four days twenty-six condemned murderers will pass through and survive the experience, for a short time, anyhow. They will be transferred from the old to the new death chamber, one at a time, and extra guards will be on duty to see that none escapes in crossing the prison yard.

PRIEST TRIES TO END IRELAND'S WARFARE

Father Thomas of Cork Conciliation Board Acts as Intermediary.

CONVEYS THE PROPOSALS

Believes He Can Persuade Rebels to Concede Enough to Satisfy Government.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau. Dublin, Oct. 21.—The most promising move yet attempted to induce the rebels to cease their attacks on the national troops is now being conducted in County Cork by Father Thomas, chairman of the Cork board of conciliation and known throughout Ireland for his long record in the adjustment of labor difficulties.

A proposal drafted by irregular chiefs has been transmitted by Father Thomas to the Provisional Government and has been tentatively rejected, though the document is now in the Government of the cabinet.

The Government will not negotiate directly with the rebels because it would lower their prestige as a Government and the Government's military position is steadily improving anyway. Father Thomas, however, after a visit to Dublin, returned to Cork believing that he had a formula for peace that would suit both sides.

The priest drafted his proposals and passed them on to the irregular leader in the Cork area, who decided that he would accept them if the irregular chiefs of the other areas would. Father Thomas then discussed the matter with Gen. Dalton, commander of the army in that area, and was assured of safe conduct through the lines by this leader so that he could submit his proposals to the other irregulars.

He returned after a week conveying his decision not to accept his proposals, but offering new proposals of their own. Some of the Government supporters considered the offer of the irregulars to be one which the Government could not honorably accept. Father Thomas, however, believes that he will be able to persuade the irregulars to concede enough to satisfy the Government. A gradual cessation of rebel activities is expected with the commencement of winter, but if Father Thomas is successful it will mean a general peace instead of slow disintegration.

DRY CANDIDATES SAY BIG PARTIES ARE WET

Seek Votes as Protest Against Saloon's Return.

Candidates for State offices on the Prohibition party's ticket declared in speeches at notification ceremonies last night, in the Hotel Chelsea, in West Twenty-third street, that only through the Prohibition party could voters register a protest against the return of the saloon, since it was pointed out, "both of the major parties are wet."

The candidates notified are: For Governor, George Kent Hinds, of New York city; Lieut.-Gov., William C. Randall, of Middletown; Secretary of State, Helen G. Estelle, of Poughkeepsie; Attorney-General, Francis E. Baldwin, of Elmira; State Engineer, John G. Passare, of Schenectady; State Comptroller, Edward E. Egan, of Batavia; State Treasurer, Albert W. Pierson, of Niagara Falls; U. S. Senator, Colorado A. H. Hays, of Denver.

In his speech of acceptance Mr. Hinds said he recently received a letter, which he said was undoubtedly, the liquor interests would like nothing better.

ARCHBISHOP TO BLESS MODERN PARISH HOUSE

Structure Reared by Rev. J. B. Curry Well Equipped.

The four story parish house which the Rev. James B. Curry, rector of the Church of the Holy Name, has erected at Ninety-seventh street and Amsterdam avenue, will be dedicated Tuesday evening by Archbishop Hayes.

The parish house, which adjoins the school, is of fireproof construction. It is built of brick and limestone. The lecture room seats 500 persons, the seats being removable to permit use of the room for other purposes. A gymnasium is on the top floor and lockers and dressing rooms are in the basement. The roof is constructed for use as a playground for children.

200,000 ARE CARED FOR.

More than 200,000 persons have been cared for by Beth Israel Hospital during the last twelve months, according to the annual report issued yesterday by the directors. Four thousand have been treated at the hospital, staying on an average of sixteen days each, and totaling 11,520 hospital days. At the dispensary 80,000 have had consultations and 63,000 have been prescribed for.

The social service department has reached more than 40,000, feeding and clothing those who were temporarily unable to provide for themselves. Forty per cent of the patients cared for were Russian, 33 native born and 11 per cent, Austrian. The hospital has under construction a new $500,000 building at Livingston place and Seventh street. The corner stone is to be laid in November, instead of October 22, as previously announced.

BEEKMAN HOSPITAL ASSAILED BY COLER

Welfare Commissioner Calls It Unnecessary and of No Use to the Public.

BIRD S. COLER, Commissioner of Public Welfare, declared yesterday that the Beekman Street Hospital, whose solicitation of a $250,000 reorganization fund will open to-morrow, was "unnecessary and of no public benefit," that it spent much money on overhead and that those patients who could not pay were passed quickly on to hospitals under the supervision of his department.

"We have discovered that the Beekman Street Hospital has only a third of its beds occupied but employs three times as many persons as are necessary," Mr. Coler asserted. He took exception to published statements which referred to Miss Marian Whidden, superintendent of this hospital, as the only woman superintendent of hospitals in the city. Miss Whidden denied making any such assertion. It was explained that this misunderstanding arose because Miss Whidden is a business woman and entered into her present field with business rather than hospital training.

George W. Morgan of the law firm of Reed, Abbott & Morgan, of the board of directors of the Beekman Street Hospital, denied that there was the slightest foundation to the charges of Mr. Coler. He said the Commissioner had been misled by inefficient employees recently discharged. Howard S. Cullman of the tobacco firm of Cullman Bros., 361 Front street, president of the hospital, said Commissioner Coler had fixed to-morrow as the date on which he would hear the present management's report on the progress of reorganization. "In advance of this hearing, however, Commissioner Coler has evidently been prevailed upon to announce conclusions which he will be shown on Monday are at wide variance with the facts," Mr. Cullman said.

A statement issued jointly by Mr. Cullman and Mr. Morgan, to cover the assertions of the Commissioner, said in part: "The present management took over the hospital in the early summer. For a long period prior to this time the hospital had been without sufficient funds to carry on its work. Its physical condition had deteriorated to such an extent that a complete and immediate renovation was necessary."

FRENCH TO TEST HERE EINSTEIN'S THEORY

Flammarion May Head Party to Observe Eclipse.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. Paris, Oct. 21.—Five French astronomers, probably headed by Camille Flammarion are to have their expenses paid by the French Government to California next September in order to test the Einstein theory during an eclipse of the sun.

Leon Berard, Minister of Public Instruction, is asking parliament for a special credit of $10,000 for this purpose.

BOY BANDITS DISARMED OF GUN AND CARTRIDGES

Detective Has One Pass Pistol Into His Pocket.

Detective Callahan, who has been looking for Nicholas Katsivardis, 14, ever since October 2, when Nick took $100 from his uncle's trousers and left his uncle's home at 124 East Seventeenth street, found Nick and another boy early yesterday at Lexington avenue and Twenty-third street. Callahan had heard that Nick and another boy had been holding up other boys with a revolver and robbing them of small change.

"Nick," said the detective, "which one of you has the gun?" "Joe's got it," said Nick, indicating his companion, who said he was Joseph Guttuso, 14, of 190 Allen street. Callahan turned his head the other way and told Joe to pass the gun into his pocket. The boy turned over a .38 caliber revolver and Nick gave the detective nine cartridges. The boys were taken to headquarters and later turned over to the Children's Society as delinquents.
